

Wednesday 17th June 2020

Written speech

Wednesday 17th June 2020

LO: To write a speech

SC 1: I can use my plan to write a speech

SC 2: I can punctuate sentences correctly

SC 3: I can rehearse my speech out loud.

A wonderful world

In a wonderful world, people continue to make good choices about reducing the pollution on our planet. The skies are clearing and the plastic in our seas and oceans is on the decline. As a result, mother nature is able to breathe once again. Surely we don't want to revert to how everything once was? The birds are more vocal each day and the air is clearer.

In a wonderful world, human beings have found terrific strength to do incredible things. Be it completing hundreds of laps around a garden, or working for hours and hours each day to save the lives of those suffering. We as human beings have the capacity to do great things. We were able to put a man into the moon - maybe one day we will reach Mars?

In a wonderful world, there is no discriminating or fighting and people smile, laugh and joke with one another on a daily basis. We must not judge one another by what we cannot do - but celebrate how amazing every individual is. Love does not - and should not - discriminate.

Hopefully, if we continue to hold onto some of these positives we can continue to make our world a happy place.